Prather Teacher Killed in Auto Crash

Auto of Wm. Cotter Hits Canal Bridge on Route Three Saturday

Traffic took another life in the Quad-City area during the weekend, and 11 persons suffered non-fatal injuries. Twenty-one crashes were recorded.

William Edward Cotter, 36, of 813 Brookwood drive, Rosewood Heights, a mathematics teacher at Prather Junior High school, was killed at 2:40 a.m. Saturday when his southbound auto left Illinois Route Three and hit the north end of the Hartford canal bridge.

Another Prather teacher, Miss Virginia Heitner, 25, of 2827a Nameoli road, was critically injured in the crash, suffering head and leg injuries.

Initially taken to the Wood River Township Hospital, Miss Heitner, a mathematics and science instructor, was transferred to Barnes Hospital, St. Louis, and underwent surgery Saturday.

A widow, Mr. Cotter was pronounced dead upon arrival at the Wood River Hospital. State police said the car ran off the highway and collided with a bridge abutment. He had been a teacher here seven years.

A native of Edwardsville and a graduate of Edwardsville high school and Southern Illinois University, he served in the Navy from 1951 to 1955 and was a member of Wood River Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 2838.

He was married in 1958 to the former Joan Fairless of Alton, who died three months ago, on June 12, at the Wood River hospital after a short illness.

He is survived by a daughter, Susan Lynn, six years old; a son, John Gregory, four years old; and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Cotter, Edwardsville. Services were held at 2 p.m. today at an Edwardsville funeral home, with burial at Rose Lawn Cemetery, Babbato. An obituary notice is given elsewhere in this issue.

The younger Hickam, who was driving out of a service station on Route Three and the Chain of Rocks road, Mitchell, was released after emergency treatment at St. Elizabeth Hospital. Tom Hickam was admitted Friday night and discharged yesterday.

Venice Park to Erect Building

New Recreation, Office Structure Planned; to Sell $224,000 in Bonds

Recreation Office Building Under Construction at Venice Park.

The Venice park district board has decided to proceed immediately with development of a new community center office building in Lee Park, Marion Grosch, superintendent, announced. It is to be located at the site of Miller's junk yard, 321-23 Broadway, which abuts the park. Negotiations to purchase the property are now under way with William Miller, proprietor.

Preliminary plans call for construction of an administration building containing park district offices, a board meeting room, a fountain in the center, and a recreation building wing with a concession stand and patio.

Park district residents have been in need of such facilities for years, Grosch said, and designs for the structure are being drawn by Virgil Dulgeroff, Granite City architect, who was contracted for the work last month.

To Issue Bonds
The project will be financed primarily by the public sale of $224,000 in general obligation bonds, to be retired in 18 to 20 years through taxes.

Harry Hartman, park attorney, said he hopes to have legal papers for the sale of bonds ready in about two weeks, and public bids will be called.

He said he hopes to obtain an interest rate of four percent, but the amount may vary in either direction, depending upon the status of the bond market.

A refunding is not required to issue the bonds, he explained, as the park district is authorized to issue to one-half of one percent of the assessed valuation of the district according to state statute.

The maximum that can be raised under the limitation is about $224,000, Hartman said, and the bonds can be retired with an additional tax of not more than four cents per $100 assessed valuation in 18 years. He added that the bonds could be extended to 19 or 20 years to obtain additional conveniences.

He plans to file an application for federal aid in the purchase of the junk yard property which has a 250-foot frontage.

Preliminary cost estimates have become a problem, he said, as the type of facilities to be provided in the building will depend upon the amount of federal funds to be received.

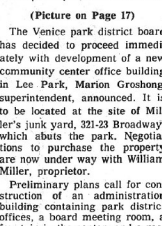

Expansion, Beautification
Hartman said the park district is qualified for a grant through U. S. programs providing for park expansion and beautification.

The park district has been operating out of an old, small garage containing a small office in Lee Park. The new building will house its mechanical and recreation equipment.

Annual district programs have increased playground facilities, ball diamonds, tennis and ice skating facilities on the tennis courts, ponds, planting of additional trees and development of gardens for park beautification.

Watch, Car, Shoes Among Loot Stolen In Eight Thefts

A convertible auto, a watch and a pair of shoes were among loot stolen during the weekend in the Quad-City area.

Police Officer Examining a Watch Stolen from a Victim.

The 1962 convertible auto of Robert Parks, Rural Route One, was stolen Friday night while parked at the Chain of Rocks trailer court, Mitchell.

W. D. Williams, 2121 Delmar avenue, reported to police Friday evening that a watch was stolen from a closet in his apartment while he was at work between 6:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Friday. The thief also took $2 in door of change from a box. The watch was valued at $92.

The theft of a pair of shoes from the J. B. Banks Dry Goods store at 1104 Logan street, Venice, was reported to police at 7:40 p.m. Sunday. Officers reported several youths told them that a small boy fled the store with the shoes. A clerk at the store said the shoes were the only article stolen.

Mrs. Jeffie Paige, 419 Slope road, Venice, reported to police at 8:45 p.m. and $9.65 in small change was taken. Entry was made through a window. Mrs. Paige told officers that $4.75 was taken from her purse and the remainder in small change was taken from a cabinet.

Billie Joe Wallace, 223 (rear) Washington avenue, reported at 10:45 p.m. Sunday that a would-be intruder kicked in the front door of his apartment, broke a window and damaged the television set in his living room, setting off his mechanical and lock were damaged.

Larger '60-65 Growth in GC Than Other Parts of County

(Special from Springfield)

The latest population statistics for Illinois, compiled through July 1, 1965, list Granite City with an estimated population of 44,100.

The statistics are prepared by the Bureau of Statistics in the Department of Public Health. Although they are compiled as of July 1, each year, the final and correction computations are not announced until six months to a year afterward.

That time lapse is to permit a series of double checks by statisticians on the various projections they make, to eliminate as much of a margin for error as possible.

Granite City's latest population estimate of 44,100 shows an increase of 4027 over the 40,073 listed for the city in the 1960 federal census.

Steady Growth
Here are the population estimates for Granite City made by the bureau for each year between 1960 and 1965: 1961, 41,000; 1962, 41,700; 1963, 42,600; 1964, 43,400. Comparison of these statistics shows a steady growth pattern through the first half of the decade.

Anticipating the same growth pattern through the second half of the current decade would indicate Granite City could have a population of about 50,000 by the time of the 1970 census.

The bureau also estimates the population of Madison county, as of July 1 last year, at 242,000. In the 1960 census, the county was officially counted with 228,800 people.

Factors Considered
As some of the factors in its computations, the bureau considers the recorded birth and death rates, annexations of territory to a city and development of subdivisions in those annexations, establishment of a new industry or expansion of existing industry, issuance of orders by the Illinois Commerce Commission to any utility (whether gas and electric or water or transportation) to serve additional areas which are considered to have a stated number in increased homes, increases or decreases in the numbers of registered voters and any migration of workers into, or out of, an area as noted by the Department of Labor.

Incidentally, in the Granite City area, no migration out of the city is noted. Instead, it is noted that industries here attract not only workers from out of the city but workers from out of the state.

The bureau does not make any estimates as to the number of cities under 10,000 population.

Nearby Cities
On the basis of the estimates it has made, here are the latest projections for other cities near Granite City:

Wood River, 12,900 (11,694 in the 1960 census); Edwardsville, 12,000 (9,996 in the 1960 census); Collinsville, 16,500 (14,217 in the 1960 census); Alton, 47,000 (45,047 counted in the 1960 census).

Nearby St. Clair county is now estimated to have a population of 80,500—a lower figure than the 1960 census showed for that city when 81,712 people were recorded in the corporate limits.

Auxiliary to Buy County's Population To Double By 1985

Ladies Auxiliary of St. Elizabeth Hospital has chosen to financially support acquisition of cardiac-monitoring equipment for the hospital's new intensive Care Unit.

The unit, which will open this fall, will accommodate four heart patients at one time, using the apparatus to be purchased by the Auxiliary. Estimated cost of the monitoring equipment is between $15,000 and $20,000.

At the discretion of the attending physician, the suspected cardiac patient is placed in the unit and the monitoring equipment is attached. The function of the heart is then carefully watched electronically. If a malfunction of the heart occurs, the monitoring equipment activates an electrical device which attempts to cause the heart to beat normally.

With the use of cardiac monitoring equipment, it has been estimated in various medical circles that the percentage of patients who recover from cardiac ailments increases by slightly less than one third.

Trustees of the Pontoon Beach water district at a monthly meeting Saturday afternoon adopted an ordinance reducing water rates. The action followed a seven-month rate study by the board.

In the future, the minimum monthly charge (for 2000 gallons of water) will be $2.75, a reduction of $1.25 from the past figure of $4. This will mean that families will pay less than they did formerly.

No change was made in the monthly rates of $1.40 a thousand gallons for 2001 to 5000 gallons; 90 cents a thousand for 5001 to 10,000 gallons; and 50 cents a thousand for monthly usage over 10,000.

Average monthly payment is expected to drop from $2.28 to $4.03.

SWIMAPC Reports Need For County Building Immediately Necessary

Booming growth that virtually will double Madison county's population during the next 20 years and more than double the number of county employees in the same period makes an extensive county building program immediately necessary, county officials were told in a meeting at Edwardsville Friday.

The proposition was made by Thomas Miksell, director of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission, in a five-phase building program drafted by SWIMAPC in a building needs study under way for the next year and a half, with members of the courthouse committee of the county board of supervisors.

Also attending the meeting were Harold Landolt, Alhambra, chairman of the county board, and Barney Winder, public relations member of the SWIMAPC staff.

At the same time, Miksell and Winder discussed suggestions of some committee members of construction of a high-rise building, rather than a series of individual building units, be considered.

The two SWIMAPC representatives explained that a high-rise building construction large enough to meet the county's growing needs would not be as economical as it might appear because of costs involved in parking, concrete pillars and the other requirements of a multiple-story building.

Population to Jump
Miksell told the group that on the basis of planning studies, current population projections indicate a total of 458,000 residents in Madison county by 1985, compared to the 1965 population of 235,000. This is a projected increase of 87%.

During the same period, he said, the number of county employees will jump from the present 383, or 16 employees per 10,000 residents, to 812, or 18 employees per 10,000 persons. Such an increase in county administrative requirements makes planning of expanded building imperative, it was pointed out.

Preliminary details of a proposed five-phase building program were announced at a meeting of the courthouse committee with Miksell on Sept. 3.

As part of the program, that public building commission be appointed to direct and finance the building program.

Major points of the proposed building program include:

1. Construction of an administrative office building to be occupied by all county offices other than the courts and related departments which would remain in the present courthouse.

2. Construction of a new county jail two blocks from the courthouse.

3. Remodeling of the Tuberculosis Sanatorium for use as a nursing home and construction of a tuberculosis clinic. This phase of the report also suggests use of the present nursing home as a juvenile detention home.

4. Construction of a completely enclosed dog pound.

Local Property Values Up 3% In Quad-City Area

Locally assessed personal and real estate property valuations of Venice, Nameoki and Chouteau townships have been set by township assessors at $146,106, $80, it was reported today.

The figures are an increase of $3,303,680, or 3% over last year's total of $121,803,630 for the three townships.

Railroad assessments, only a small part of which are assessed locally, are not included in the figure. These amounted to $172,910 for Nameoki township and $73,150 for Venice township, with no local rail valuations in Chouteau.

Bulk of the assessments on railroad property are fixed by the Illinois State Department of Revenue and are not expected to be certified to the county clerk's office until early next year.

The local assessment for Granite City township was announced two weeks ago, totaling $159,035,615. Of this, $68,279,835 represented personal property assessments.

All of the locally assessed valuations are subject to change by the Madison county board of review which is now conducting hearings in Edwardsville.

Personal property and real estate valuations in all four townships reflect a slight trend upward, due principally, assessors said, to new building. There are no material changes in personal property values.

Largest Rise in Nameoki

Largest increase in personal property values was noted in Nameoki township where personal property was assessed at $8,176,850, real estate (with improvements) at $10,783,200 and lots (vacant land) at $10,738,420, a total of $29,698,470.

This is an increase of $1,709,440 over last year's local assessment of $27,989,030 which included personal property of $8,006,060, real estate at $10,825,500 and Chouteau township's local assessments for the 1966 year.

The smallest assessment increase was made in Venice township where the 1966 valuation of $63,782,340 was made by the town assessor. This is only $333,785 higher than the 1965 assessment. This year's valuations include $29,722,410 personal, $11,748,590 real estate and $22,311,060 lots, compared to last year's $29,429,930 personal, $11,515,310 real estate and $22,263,310 lots.

The Board of Review will remain in session for judgment of local assessments from all townships through the month of December. Final assessments usually are certified to the county clerk's office in January.

Churches Cooperate to Give Welfare Services to Quad-City Community

The Quad-City community's cooperative spirit that prevails in all major undertakings is reflected in a United Fund agency that was formed 12 years ago to promote the "moral, social and spiritual betterment of the people."

That agency is the Protestant Welfare Association, Inc., with offices and clothing-furnishings storeroom at 2652 Edison avenue.

Roy Lynn is president of the Association. He, with employees, Mrs. Marie Whittle, secretary, who maintains the office with the assistance of the church pastors and volunteers.

Lynn explained the agency renders service without charge to families, individuals and children within the community who are in need or who seek special assistance in solving the complex problems of life.

"In providing services to the needy," Lynn continued, "we at no time deviate from the principles of Christianity."

"Respect, confidence and religious convictions of all who make application for assistance and cooperate with all local, county, state and federal agencies, including all churches, for the betterment of health, welfare and education of the Quad-City community."

"Wherever possible, we endeavor to preserve and strengthen the family unit."

The agency's budget this year is $16,500 of the total $63,000 goal for the Quad-Cities 22 United Fund agencies. The Protestant Welfare budget is unchanged from last year.

In 1965, the agency spent $14,520, including $8,095 for direct services, $546 for utilities, $161 for innumerable other expenses.

Stamps' Brother Identified in Witness Beating

Phillip Stamps, brother of John Stamps, who was convicted of murder recently in the slaying of three Menard prison guards was being held in "segregation" today at the Illinois State Penal Farm at Vandalia pending further investigation into the beating of a prisoner who testified for the state at John Stamps trial.

Warden Clayton King told the Press-Record that Stamps "has been definitely identified" as the assailant of Donald Scroggins, a Menard prison convict serving a one-to-20-year robbery sentence who testified for the state during the Springfield trial of John Stamps and three other convicts charged with murdering three Menard guards during a riot at the prison last November.

Scroggins was transferred to the Vandalia penal farm following completion of the 17-week trial two weeks ago. Stamps was beaten after a guard had assigned him to a bed in the dormitory. Several sutures were required for a wound on Scroggins' forehead, but he was not seriously injured, Warden King said.

Legal action against Stamps has not been determined pending completion of the investigation, the warden explained.

Phillips Stamps, 27, is serving a six-month sentence from Madison county on a charge of battery and is scheduled to be released late this month.

Bicycle Road-E-O For Youngsters Sept. 24

The third annual "Bike Road-E-O" for youngsters between the ages of six and 13 years will be co-sponsored by the Granite City Jaycees and the Downtown Granite City Shopping Center at 10 a.m. Saturday, Sept. 24, Michael Day, Jaycees project chairman, said that starting Thursday, entry forms may be obtained at local schools or downtown stores.

The road-E-O, which last year attracted more than 480 participants, is to be conducted on Edison avenue, between 19th and 20th streets. For the first time, a bike safety check will be made by members of the local men's service club in conjunction with the usual competitive events.

One of the lucky contestants will receive a bicycle as a grand prize, while 12 other prizes will be awarded in three categories of competition. They include: best decorated bike; silliest looking bike; and most skillful navigation of an obstacle course.

Boys and girls will compete against each other in two age divisions — midgets, six through nine years, and juniors, ten through 13 years. First and second prizes will be presented in each category, plus the grand award. Winner of the latter prize must also be present.

In addition to prize presentation, participating youngsters also will receive free soda, potato chips and ice cream.

Day explained that the Jaycees had elected to combine a safety check feature into the road-E-O this year to assist children in learning the basic safety points in bike riding and the operation of their machines. Parents, who are being invited to view the contest, also may discover some of the factors which can prove hazardous to a young, or older bike rider.

The project chairman pointed out that a bike in poor mechanical condition is a definite hazard. For instance, he said, a loose bicycle chain could snap while a child is coasting down an incline, with the rider being unable to stop regardless of traffic conditions. One such incident, which happened elsewhere in the state, resulted in the child being killed by an oncoming car, Day said.

He added that later, one of the youngsters' friends reported that he had complained of the chain being loose for several weeks. Seat, proper height for rider, wobbling wheels, faulty brakes and tightened, warning device, and burned out lights also are a major cause of bike accidents, Day said.

Safety Checkpoints The safety check to be given by Jaycees, includes 15 points: reflector, should be visible for 300-feet; tire valves, inspection for leaks; coaster brakes; tires, lubricate and adjust; wheels, inflated to pressure indicated on sidewalls and checks for imbedded cinders, pebbles, etc.; crank hanger, clean and lubricated; Youngsters whose bikes pass the safety check will receive an emblem, Day reported. Those unable to meet the safety requirements will be given a list of improvements to make.

Cahokia Brooding Giant of Midwestern Conference

Comanche-Warrior Duel Much Discussed

Cahokia, long thought of as the "East Star" of the Midwest conference, seems even stronger this year. Comanche coach James "Peter" Truran's 1966 football roster is loaded with 17 returning senior lettermen.

Heightening interest locally is the fact that the Comanches open here against Granite City's Warriors, a non-league foe Sept. 16. This is the initial meeting of the two schools, too.

Adding fuel, also, is the possible disappointment over Cahokia's failure to gain Southwestern Conference admission.

Truran, in four years as Comanche's mentor, has turned out a 27-52 record. The Comanches are coming to Granite City with a 10-game streak at stake and much more riding prestige-wise.

Inevitably, prognosticators are adding sparks by comparing the scores of common opponents.

Last year, Cahokia edged River View Gardens 18-14 as the Comanches barreled to an 8-0 record that included a 47-0 win over Madison.

The Warriors, on the other hand, were beaten by the Mounties from River View 21-0 and then defeated Madison 25-13.

Descriptions of all Midwestern Conference football teams besides Madison, which is being discussed in other pre-season articles, follow:

Cahokia

Truran's 1966 backfield features 150-pound quarterback Mike Sluder who stands 5' 7".

The four halfback monogamers are 185-pound Don Gilmer, Percy Dace, 170, Julius Winters, 165, and Tom Belt, who scales 160.

Team co-captain Belt, Gilmer and 175-pound Mike Charlton, at fullback, are the tallest in a backfield that also includes fullback Ron Mosbacher, a 5' 5" 160-pounder.

Al Lolley, 6' 2", at 185, Larry Prince, a 5' 10" 165-pounder, and Dave Kolth, the same weight as Prince at 5' 9", are ends. Lolley doubles in brass at safety.

At tackle, the Comanches have Ezra Silas, 6' 2" and 215, Terry Monday, 6' and 205, Len Galtier, 6' 2" and 200 pounds at 6' 2", Roy Ballard, 6' 1" and 195, and Jerry Goersch, a 5' 9" 185-pounder.

The guard department is bolstered by both Goersch's and Monday's versatility at that post and my 6' and 170-pound co-captain Monty Rochell, along with Mike Letta, a 5' 10" 165-pounder.

Roxana

While Cahokia's only shortage might be at center, Truran still boasts as many lettermen as Morris Tschannen at Roxana. Tschannen, in his fourth year as Shell's mentor, has built up a 14-10 record and has 11 lettermen back.

Five of the letter winners are backfield men: 5' 10" 170-pound Dick Doga will do the signal calling. Ron Kerr and Bob Wilson, both 185-pound seniors, are returning at halfback. Tim Nunn, 6', as is Kerr, and weighing 190 pounds, is a fullback.

Ron Criley, 6' 185, Ned Thompson, 6' 3" and 172, are senior ends. Fred Hubbard, 6' and down to 220 pounds from 265, Ric Volentine, also 6' at 215, and Randy Williams, 5' 8" and 185, are lettermen tackles. Volentine has been bothered by an ankle sprain.

Tom Duetchik, a 5' 10" and 185-pound center, finishes out. Shell, letter winners back, but Tschannen is high on several other boys.

Two guards and brothers are senior back Rick Harrison, 178, and Wayne Harrison, a 144-pound junior. Two other guards are senior Mike Scroggins, 166, and junior Dennis Allison, 174. Steve Kinsler is a 170-pound junior center and guard.

Three more Shells mentionable include quarterback Dick Doga's brother, Dan, a 5' 10" and 183-pound junior fullback candidate; senior wingback Tom Carroll, 5' 10" and 185; and Scott Davis, a senior end at 6' and 183.

Bethalto

Coach Ed Hartweger is another coach with 11 returning letter winners this year, his third at Bethalto, where he's compiled a 7-11 record.

Quarterback the Eagles will be 6' and 175-pound real simulators, complete with officials' kickoffs and hard, rocking play, the coaches stepped in for a quarter of control type drills.

Focusing close attention on the backfield starters, Pickering was particularly watching the play calling of Steve Geroff and Steve Shipchock, the two evenly-matched quarterbacks.

Titus Shipcho, the 165-pound junior converted from center to halfback, was also in the backfield focus Saturday night. Again, Pickering seemed fairly pleased with the running of his two fast halfbacks, Sam Jones and Ron Runt.

Also seen at wingback was Terry Brake, who has been out all during the pre-season practice.

Linemen Studied

Pickering's tall ends, Keith Williams and Joe Collins, were being watched carefully on offensive maneuvers as were tackle Marv Owca, George Campbell and Bart Armour.

Joe Podnar and Terry Stavar were seeing the bulk of the action in the guard slots and Greg Waylack continued to hold forth at center.

The approaching 8 p.m. opener at Edwardsville Friday saw the senior, and juniors Steve Wall, 175, and Chet Wood, also 175. All lettermen, Sophomore Steve Best, a 160-pounder, is a definite guard possibility, too.

Hartweger, who'll be suiting 16 juniors and 15 sophomores at a 180-pound center in Steve Hart, another sophomore on the young Eagles' squad.

Quarterback Brian Siever, 162, anchors Highland this fall as coach Frank Frchal, (pronounce it "Per-kei") begins his sixth year with eight lettermen.

Darryll Gentry, a 169-pound junior half, is the other backfield letterman returnee. Frchal estimates the backs will average out at 168 pounds.

Hoping to match or better last year's 7-2 mark that saw the team take the Staunton Jammer, Frchal is eyeballing halfback Bob Ricker, 168-pound senior who is playing for the first time. Horst Dremsler, a 165-pounder at fullback, is also a starting hopeful.

Rebuilding a team that was 1-8 last year and is minus 20 graduates in 1966 won't be easy, but Stewart is optimistic.

For the Staunton Jammer, Highland will be there Sept. 20, along with Auburn, Virden and the host squad in the round-robin quarter-by-quarter event.

Quarterback Brian Siever, 162, anchors Highland this fall as coach Frank Frchal, (pronounce it "Per-kei") begins his sixth year with eight lettermen.

Darryll Gentry, a 169-pound junior half, is the other backfield letterman returnee. Frchal estimates the backs will average out at 168 pounds.

Hoping to match or better last year's 7-2 mark that saw the team take the Staunton Jammer, Frchal is eyeballing halfback Bob Ricker, 168-pound senior who is playing for the first time. Horst Dremsler, a 165-pounder at fullback, is also a starting hopeful.

Prather junior high Chiefs had their first all-stop-pulled scrimmage Friday as coaches Ray Fyalka and Al Sonnenberg sharpened the team for a Sept. 22 opener at Bethalto.

"We have about 26 ninth graders and 22 eighth graders out now, assistant coach Sonnenberg noted, adding that nearly every day a few more players obtain physicals and report.

Contact work is nothing strange for Prather graders now. "We've had them doing a regular line of tackling and one-on-one blocking drills," said Sonnenberg, "and we've also been having 10 to 15 minutes of live scrimmage every practice."

Are junior high athletes getting larger? Fyalka and Sonnenberg believe they are.

"We've got at least one boy who's better than our boys," Fyalka said, "and I would estimate that our front line will average 160 pounds."

"We've got boys six feet two inches tall, too," Fyalka added, noting that the backfield is heavy.

'N' Soccer Season Opener Yesterday

The Juvenile Division of the YMCA soccer program initiated its fall season yesterday with two games. One team, Buzz's, was forced to drop out, reducing the division to five teams.

In the games played, Granite City Steel Credit Union beat St. Elizabeth 4-1 and Gasparovic Agency won over the Collinsville Kickers 3-1.

Redbirds Top Loop in Returning Lettermen

Returning lettermen always 160, and Terry Grieve, 160, in seem the criterion in sizing up the returning backfield department along with Bob Carter, another 140-pound first-footer.

East St. Louis

Eleven-year SWC veteran Fred Cameron of East St. Louis counts All-American Arthur Garrett, a 235-pound guard, among his 15 returning lettermen.

And at every position, Cameron can spot an experienced letter winner from a team that was 10-0 last season. In addition to Garrett, he has guards Alan Shoinor, 195, and Dan Hayden, 190. At tackle, there are Bill Goss, 235, and Houston Haines, 245.

Ends include 215-pound Roosevelt Long, Jerry Bell, 172, and Victor Wicks, 175. Centers Ben Washington, 195, and David Hall, 180, also are back.

Backfield standouts for the Flyers include fullback Pete Robertson, 180, halfback Willie Williams, 160, wingbacks Carole Fisher and John Lanter, both 175, and at quarterback 6'3" Pat Harrington, a 175-pounder.

Cameron is also mentioning such names as tailback-competers Tim Wigginton, Willie Clay and Percy Wood.

Wood River

Wood River's coach Wayne Williams is forecasting a dim view as he starts his third year as Oilers' mentor. Of his eight returning senior lettermen, only three saw much action last year.

These are center John Mace, 216, tackle Tim Corbin, 225, and Mike Chappell, all nearly 180-pounders. The other returning lettermen are tackle Randy Schmidt, 185, and Mike Bradshaw, 155, fullback Wally Locke, 185, and Don Hinman, 182 pounds.

Williams, in his third year at signal-caller Mike Crivello, a 191-pounder.

Yonkus' weakest link may be at center, where 180-pound six-foot Roger Keith holds forth. But with all this talent, the Redbird mentor probably isn't worried about the center position.

Collinsville

Charles Lipe 235, Frank Feichtinger 225, Fred Dominick 220, Harry Bickford 215—this is some of the tackle material first-year Kahok coach Frank Pitol has available at Collinsville. He's even converting 180-pound tackle Mike Pamotot to halfback.

Bickford may end up at guard, where 210-pound Art Capstick, 178-pound Rick Huddleston and 185-pound Larry Benesh have been looking like starters. Centers Todd Bruunworth, 175, and Tom Price, 205, along with 165-pound Steve Goetter, a junior, anchor an impressive line flanked with experience at end.

Steve Helmkamp 185, bids well to fill the quarterback slot and Pamotot was a quarterback in junior high.

Stan Baczewski, a 200-pound returning senior, will likely see a lot of fullback duty. Don Cox, a 145-pounder, is figured for halfback chores but 160-pound Stan Scott and 165-pound Bob Riggs, both seniors, also figure in the halfback plans. Pitol also has 165-pound junior Arnold Pegues.

Belleville

Another first-year coach with a promising nucleus in the line is Bob Samples at Belleville. Maroon tackles are Bill Huber, 185, and George Choate, 178. Larry Hollis 180, Roger Fox, 187, and 172-pound Ron Choura are guards, and 200 Bill Webster is at center.

Rick Sterling, a 200-pound extra-point booter, is an end returner, as is 170-pound Dave Barry.

Gary Zipek, a 184-pound two-year letterman, and junior Jack King, 185, are shaping up at quarterback. Other backs include 200-pound fullback Mike King, 181-pound Bill Mauser and 152-pound Dave Extrat, said to be the team's fastest.

But Samples also has Milton Touchette, 150, Keith Ihlanfeldt,

Prep Warning on Grid Expansion Excitement Running High For Warrior-Cahokia Tilt

High school football, almost entirely a Friday night activity these days, is in jeopardy, according to Illinois High School Association president Robert Grant.

In a letter to members, he relates that "professional football is again televising games on Friday nights."

He goes on to urge congressmen not to support legislation that would allow anti-trust exemption of any kind to professional football, "unless high schools are given protection from telecasts on Friday nights similar to that now given to colleges and universities on Saturdays."

Speaking for an organization representing about 75 Illinois high schools, Grant notes that 85% of all high school games are played on Friday night and most of the schools depend on gate receipts to support football programs and sometimes other athletics.

Booster Meeting

Tonight Includes Film

Boosters of the Fighting Warriors will hold a pre-season meeting at the Knights of Columbus Hall at 8 o'clock tonight.

Highlights of the meeting will be the showing of a film taken during practice on Sept. 2. At the meeting also will be head coach Jim Morrison's assistant coaches.

Kutis, of the St. Louis League, pulled up a 7-0 lead and triumphed 7-4 over Belleville Geisslers of the Mon-Clair League in the final game of the Carling men's baseball tournament concluded last week.

The tourney, which included Mercer of Granite City as Southwestern Illinois Inter-City League entrant, is being backed as an annual affair to bolster amateur baseball.

grinding, leather-smacking contact work that has characterized earlier practices.

On Tuesday, Morrison is scheduling annual written tests as the Warriors sharpen up their mental metal on rules, plays and defensive strategy.

On Wednesday night the Warriors will get their first look at the Granite gridiron under the illumination of the field lights.

In an 8 o'clock practice, the concentration will be on ball handling, passing and kicking.

Southwestern Conference and non-conference openers this weekend will be as follows:

Friday Night

O'Fallon Tech at Belleville, 8 p.m.

Saturday

"Most of our work on the field is defense oriented," said coach Morrison. In the background was the visible excitement. Players wearing different colored scrimmage vests representing various defensive posts were busily engaged in relentless drills.

Tonight's practice session figures to be another specialized concentration of defensive maneuvers with less and less of the

2 Close Games As Inter-City Playoffs Begin

Merced, which sat out this weekend as the Inter-City Baseball League began its initial round of playoffs, will get into action next Sunday at Wilson Park with Pocatontos.

Yesterday, Pocatontos got rolling in the first inning on Harry Martin's homer with two men on and held back the visiting East St. Louis Harper team in a 9-4 game.

Harper fought back all the way. Madison high school head football coach Glen Pickering, who had doubled in the second, drove home Harper's first run with a triple in the third.

Harper scored five runs in the sixth, another in the seventh and one in the ninth, when it had the tying and leading runs on base with two out. At this point, Steve Wallace struck out.

The other playoff game at Collinsville was against East St. Louis. Polish-American War Veterans equally close. Collinsville, leading 3-1 in the third, scored two runs when Chuck Hahenstab singled and went to third on Wayne Cronos's single and Jess Young drove them both home.

Madison Lions Club Drive For Eyeglasses Continues

Persons wishing to donate discarded eyeglasses or eyeglass frames to the Madison Lions Club "Eye Care" project are being reminded by Madison Police Chief Emmett Pazia to leave the glasses this week at the Madison police station or at Perdue Furniture store, 810 Madison avenue.

Most discarded glasses, regardless of present condition, can be re-ground and repaired, Pazia said, to be used to benefit needy children and others. Those collected during the special drive now under way will be turned over to a representative of the Lions state organization within the next two weeks.

Pazia informed 38 members of the Lions club last week that several packages of glasses have been left at the two pickup points. He said he hopes Quad-Cityans will continue to respond to the current appeal.

James Perdue, Madison Lions president, was in charge of Thursday's dinner meeting, held at the Sportsmen's Club, Madison.

Approximately 200 persons attended the club's annual picnic last weekend at the Arlington Golf Club, it was announced.

Winners of the inter-club golf tournament, held in conjunction with the picnic, were introduced and received congratulations.

The winners included Leo Abel, who shot an 85 in the open championship handicap event; George Diller, Class A; Raney Rich, Class B; and Donald Bridick, Class C. Each received a Lions-embroidered jacket, while runners-up in each contest were awarded golf accessories.

Whole-hearted support for the proposed construction of a county detention home was voted by club members, who heard a report on a citizen's committee meeting from Pazia. The police chief said that petitions currently are being circulated seeking additional support to place the proposition on a special ballot in the Nov. 8 election.

If approved by voters, the juvenile detention facility would be financed with a special tax, amounting to slightly more than 1/2-cent per $100 assessed valuation.

Baby Robin Becomes Pet of Grady Family

Reluctant to leave a safe, friendly haven, where tasty tidbits are obtained for a few "chirp, chirp" sounds, a young robin appears to be ignoring the annual departure of his own kind and apparently has decided to settle back and enjoy the hospitality of his benefactors indefinitely.

The robin was found about two months ago by Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Grady, 2733 Harding boulevard. It was lying on the ground in their back yard, unable to fly, having jumped or fallen from a nest.

"The Gradys," fearing cats in the neighborhood would find the baby bird an easy prey, placed him in a cardboard box, covered with screening, and put the box on the barbecue pit.

The robin's mother fed him once or twice then ignored her offspring completely, Mrs. Grady said.

Safe in House

Later, when the bird tried to jump from the box, but was still unable to use his wings, the couple transferred him indoors where they kept him until two weeks ago when they believed him capable of flying and protecting himself. They moved him outside and observed the robin seeking the ground for insects and other food. They also noted that he was able to fly into nearby trees with ease.

However, the young speckled-breasted bird had different ideas and refused to leave his adopted family. The Gradys would put him outside, only to find him trying to re-enter the house shortly afterwards. Gradually, the robin started to remain outdoors in the daylight hours, but wanted into the house at night, Mrs. Grady said.

The bird evidently has learned to recognize the sound of the Grady's auto, as he quickly appears when the Grady's enter the driveway. The robin also watches for them to step out of the back door as he is soon on the scene, feeding the young bird, consisting of egg yolk, cottage cheese

The regular monthly meeting of the Madison County Medical Society was held at the East St. Louis Armory on Friday.

Last week and the society voted to participate in the indoctrination lectures in that local high schools at the request of the Committee on Public Safety with concurrence of the board of trustees of the Illinois State Medical Society.

Julius M. Kowalski, MD, Chairman, Committee on Public Safety, said: "Vehicular fatalities and accidents could be prevented or at least drastically curtailed if drivers were more responsible and knowledgeable. The logical place to begin is with the young drivers before they learn bad habits."

"Every physician who works with trauma cases can give a brief instructive talk to teenagers concerning auto accidents and fatalities."

Census Bureau Seeks Immunization Data

A number of families of this area will be questioned this month on the number of household members who have been immunized against polio, diphtheria, whooping cough and other communicable diseases, according to Theodore F. Olson, director of the U. S. Census Bureau's regional office in Chicago.

The questions will be added to the September Current Population Survey, conducted each month by the bureau among selected households in 357 sample areas of the nation to obtain employment and unemployment figures for the Bureau of Labor Statistics, U. S. Department of Labor.

The immunization survey, covering each civilian member of the selected households, regardless of age, is sponsored by the U. S. Public Health Service, Director Olson said.

State Mental Health Group Plans Hearings

The Illinois Association for Mental Health and the Board of Mental Health Commissioners of the state of Illinois will sponsor two days of public hearings on Sept. 26 and 27. The Illinois Association for the Mentally Retarded and the Mental Health Association of St. Clair County are cooperating organizations.

These hearings, which will focus on mental health problems and needs in St. Clair and Madison counties, were sparked by recent problems relating to Doctors' Convalescent Hospital in East St. Louis and Alton State Hospital. Hopefully, this will be the first of a series of similar meetings to be held in various sections of the state.

Mrs. Jane Schmidt, executive director of the Illinois Association for Mental Health stated: "These hearings should not be construed as 'witch hunting.' We, and the Board of Mental Health Commissioners, are sincere in our desire to provide an opportunity for the community to present their views on all the very serious problems relevant to mental illness and mental retardation in St. Clair and Madison counties."

Those wishing to testify should write to the Illinois Association for Mental Health, 700½ East Adams street, Springfield, Illinois.

Vietnam Viewpoint

By Dr. Russell Strange
We should view problems of international politics in perspective.
In the affairs of nations, more so than in the affairs of men, trends and situations at a given point of time are the product of past reality, present situations and judgments, and future aspirations and vision.
Ho Chi Minh has been through it all before with a major western power, at Dienbienphu, undermining the home front in France. To him, it is just the second verse, same as the first, a little bit more and a little bit worse.
Home Front Pressure
Naturally, his experience tells him he will succeed through the use of political pressure in the homeland of his western adversary.

But the Americans are not the French. We have not journeyed across the centuries, the prairies, the mountains and the oceans because we are made of sugar candy.

For the United States, the Vietnam war is in its infancy. American national policy and national interest which began with the Republican administration of William McKinley at the turn of the century.

Surprisingly enough, the election of 1900 had for its foreign policy issue whether or not American interests were to end on the Pacific coast of North America or whether they were to be extended across the Pacific to Asia.

The American people chose the latter course as they re-elected McKinley in 1900. His foreign policy included American annexation of the Philippines, with the attendant responsibilities and a strategic implication of the United States extending into the Asian waters of the Pacific. Indeed, there is no escape from history or its judgment.

Far East Encroachment
During world war I and into the 1920s, American policy was designed to stabilize the political situation in the Far East against encroachment by powerful European powers—Germany and Japan.

In the prelude to world war II, Japan's power thrust into Manchuria and China were opposed by the United States with diplomatic means.

However, as Japan moved into Southeast Asia, into what is now Vietnam, the policy makers of the United States were prepared to go to war to prevent a Japanese takeover in the area of South Vietnam.

In fact, the State Department in November 1941, one month before Pearl Harbor, asked the military if they were prepared to support a declaration of war against Japan in view of the imminent move into South Vietnam. The military replied that at that time they were not ready.

Tumbling Asia
Ready or not, a month later Japan struck at Pearl Harbor as well as moving into South Vietnam, the Philippines and elsewhere. The dominoes crumbled. Why was and is the area of South Vietnam so important to the United States? The geographic answer is resources and location.

The primary and so very important resource is food and rich land.
The Mekong River Valley is one of the few rice-exporting areas in Asia. This food is needed to sustain the hungry hordes from the North and their imperialistic adventures, or to sustain the free population of the island territories of Asia and the mainland of Southeast Asia.

This is why the question, little understood, is: Whether or not the rice and great food-producing potential of the Mekong Valley will be used to help a new Asia, a free Asia, to develop this is to say nothing of the hydroelectric potential of the river.)

Or will the denial of this food contribute to the destruction of the fabric of free society in the new Asia, and thereby make it more vulnerable to genuine imperialism from the North, an aggressive thrust strengthened by assistance from the Mekong?

Strategic Value
A minister's thought about the "food and population" problem of the world—together with the location of South Vietnam—is sufficient to make clear the strategic importance of this rice breadbasket or ricebowl to the United States and the rest of the world who wish to live in freedom.

In the words of an old cartoon remembered, "Confucius" says a hungry people is turning to Communism, but where is hungry Communist turning?

Dr. Russell Strange

Dr. Russell P. Strange is a native Granite City school graduate, attending Madison public schools, graduating from Madison high school in 1940. Dr. Russell P. Strange with this article begins writing "an occasional column in the area of American foreign policy and international politics," the fields he teaches at Eastern Illinois University, Charleston.

As a beginning, Dr. Strange has submitted three discussions of the situation, "Two points in today's issue."

Formerly a member of the graduate faculty of the University of Illinois, where he taught political science, Dr. Strange this month became associate professor and acting head of the political science department at Eastern Illinois.

Now 44 years old, married and the father of a daughter, he has served on the U. S. Naval Academy faculty. The first University of Illinois student to volunteer for world war II military service, he enlisted as an Army Air Corps pilot and was discharged in 1945 after two tours in the Pacific.

His parents continue to reside in Madison.

With regards to location, it is a simple matter of looking at the map and using common sense to think about the geopolitics of the situation. Two points are important.

Supply Route, Power Base
First, transportation avenues between the Pacific and Atlantic Oceans follow the southern route around Asia. South Vietnam sits alongside of this vital line of communication and trade. It is a prime location from which to control the southern route.

Second, aggression needs a base from which to operate because it moves in a contiguous way. In other words, as a predatory nation seeks out for gains it moves across a common frontier with another nation. And as each new area is acquired, the predatory nation is then in a position to take one step more.

China's moves in Tibet and Korea and its thrust towards India are examples. Korea is a dagger pointed at Japan. A South Korea not in league with the communist aggression removes the point of the dagger.

Reds Seek Giant Place
Another look at the map and one can see the giant pincer which was clearly to have been formed by a Communist Indonesia and Vietnam extending around Southeast Asia and cutting off the avenues between the Pacific and the Indian and Atlantic Oceans.

The term "domino theory" is a simplification of the geopolitical implications of this situation. These two factors of resources and location, then, coupled with the communist intent towards the South Vietnamese as President Eisenhower after the French defeat, brings us there.

This commitment is the moral obligation to the forces of freedom, any nation rely on the word of the United States? This is the "credibility" factor which undergirds the free world structure.

In international politics as in national politics, the reliability of the word of a principal is really the thing that counts.

Business As Usual—But Not Until the Election is Past

Quad-Cityans and other Americans currently find themselves in an unreal world—one likely to become even more unreal as the Nov. 8 election draws nearer.

"Don't rock the boat" (don't face any unpleasant facts) seems to be the motto of politicians of both parties as they endeavor to maintain the trends of public thought that appear to be moving in favorable directions.

Much speculation centers on whether the traditional non-presidential election year pendulum swing will sweep out most of the 48 first-term House Democrats swept in with the Johnson landslide of 1964. Some have predicted that as many as 61 (the number of seats won by Democrats with a vote margin of less than 55%) may change hands. However, this ignores the advantages of incumbency—franking privilege, the opportunity to perform services for constituents, and the chance to become widely known within a district during a two-year term.

What it takes to stay in office may vary with the issues and circumstances, but legislators of every degree of the political spectrum are following a strikingly similar formula. With the 1964 "mandate" in mind, they voted for liberal proposals in 1965. This year, all have seen a reverse pendulum viewpoint; a survey has shown sharp shifts to more conservative voting by Democrats and Republicans in both the House and Senate.

The national administration also is regarded as slowing its programs in an effort to mark time until after the election. Most voters expect an income tax increase and greater war escalation, but not until the balloting has been completed.

While an increased national emergency does have the effect of solidifying support for existing officeholders, no such strategy would work if it was inspired from within the U. S. such crises must stem from outside forces beyond our control. Even candidates at the state and county levels are caught up in the temporary departure from candor. All will react more personally to the people and situations they encounter beginning Nov. 8.

We live in a world that is real and earnest, frank and factual, direct and precise—but not for a couple of months.

When a sorrow is shared, it lessens; when a joy is shared, it increases.

TODAY'S INVESTOR

BY THOMAS E. O'HARA
CHIEF, INVESTMENT ADVISORY
NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF INVESTMENT CLUBS

HIGH RATE OF RETURN BRINGS HIGHER RISK

O. I am 62. My husband is a semi-invalid. I plan to retire at 65. With my husband's social security and my own, plus a small pension from my present job, we will then have about $300 a month. Our home will be paid for and we should have about $10,000 in savings.

Can you please advise me as to what to invest in? I do not understand anything about stocks, bonds or any sort of investment except banks and savings-and-loan organizations, which pay about 4 1/2%. I feel we need more income than that.

A. Keep the thing in mind: In investing, the general rule is that the higher the rate of return you receive, the higher the risk you are running with your money.

It is difficult to get a higher rate of return in any stock or bond than you can obtain on a savings account. The only way to increase your risk is increasing your risk.

Growth Opportunity
There is one thing that stocks do offer that is very important in our inflation-slanted economy. That is the opportunity for growth, both in the value of your investment and in the increased income in the form of higher dividends.

With your house free and clear, your social security, pension and medicare for health emergencies, you have your basic needs paid for and your future might buy shares in a good utility or oil company with a lot of money.

You probably will not get any more return from them immediately than you are getting from your savings account, but you will enjoy the possibility of future higher dividends, inasmuch as nearly all stocks of top quality companies show a general tendency to increase in value over the years.

Looking for ways to perk up member interest in your investment club, Mr. O'Hara can give you ideas. Write to E. O'Hara, Chairman, National Association of Investment Clubs, Department of Finance, Detroit, Mich. 48231, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

GC Police Arrest 7 In Speeding Drive
Seven motorists were arrested by Granite City police Friday on speeding charges, based on use of radar. All but one of the arrests were made in the 2500 block of East 23rd street.

Those arrested were G. L. Kimball, 31, 2121 Dodge avenue, 2 p.m.; Stephen O. Hale, 36, Glen Carbon, 3 p.m.; Jerry L. Hener, 23, Troy, 3:45 p.m.; Paul Thompson, 23, Summerfield, 4 p.m.; Conrad P. Bauer, 40, 2014 Dahlia avenue, 4:20 p.m.; Helen Cochran, 42, of 141 Trooper lane, 4:50 p.m.; and Harry D. Johnson, 31, Route One, arrested at 20th and Omaha streets at 8:40 p.m.

All except John J. Courthouse were scheduled for hearings in magistrate court on Sept. 22. His hearing is set for Sept. 20.

Obstacle-Strewn Bridal Path

Judging by Press-Record society pages, the various shortages confronting mankind do not include any lack of marriage partners. But husband hunting (he runs from him until he is caught by her) is bound to become more difficult, Census Bureau statisticians assure us.

In the late 1950s there were 99 marriage-age young men for every 100 girls, but this figure dropped to 94 in the early 1960s and has now fallen to 93 per 100 females.

It seems that the post-world war II baby boom produced more girls than boys. And because girls on the average marry younger than boys, the difference will be particularly acute during the late 1960s, perhaps permanently altering the customary preference for grooms being slightly older than brides.

Any of several developments is possible, but one of the most certain is that fewer will remain lifelong bachelors. Such imbalances apparently inevitably sharpen Cupid's arrows.

Anyone for reviving the song, "A Good Man Nowdays is Hard to Find"?

10 Public Employees Dodging Taxes That Pay Their Salaries

Many people try to dodge property taxes, or delay paying them as long as possible. The practice is particularly deplorable when the evasion is by an individual whose salary is paid from the same funds he is endeavoring not to build up; surely a public job holder, of all people, ought to be convicted of the necessity of everyone contributing to finance public services.

Granite City Treasurer Rich is right in calling attention to the two city workers and eight school employees currently delinquent. They should pay up, or get off the payroll.

Madison County Residents Won Five Times Their Share of Scholarships

Selection of 29 Madison county residents to receive state teacher education scholarships for adults receiving credit on the adult education program being operated by school districts.

Based on test scores, many of which were related to issuance of high school equivalency certificates, the state awarded 265 such scholarships this year. If the grants had been apportioned according to population, this county would have received only six.

Deadline Near on Granite City Council Drawing New Ward Lines

Granite City aldermanic redistricting action is urgent because such a task, at best, is one that will require extensive time and study. It is not simple to draw new ward boundaries that simultaneously equalize population and conform to the state gerrymandering or disruption of the present council.

Although not easy, municipal reapportionment can be accomplished—and must be if local affairs are to be handled properly. The trend of the times is toward redistricting being done by authorized officials, not by the council.

The deadline is early February, two months prior to the next city election. Efforts will need to be stepped up this fall, if there is to be any hope of meeting it.

Carolina Quality-Quantity Issue

(Lenoir County News, Kinston, N. C.)
Full many a political breast has been beaten black and blue on the All-American subject of "Quality Education."

Full many a taxpayer has been beaten black and blue in the cavernous name of "Quality Education."

There is every evidence that today we are getting a lot more quantity than quality in the education of our children.

A typical example of the endless appetite—for money—for the public school system is the $100-million effort to build a new $100-million school system in 1963-64 enrollment in the system was 6243, the 1964-65 enrollment was 6189 and the 1965-66 enrollment was 6210, hardly indicating any population explosion in the city schools.

But now Kinston school officials declare they absolutely must have an additional two million dollars worth of classrooms. Their excuse is that under this "quality education" program, they are getting so many additional teachers they don't have any place to put them.

In addition to the exploding faculty population the city schools have also filled up a very large "administrative building" with "staff," where so shortly ago the total administrative staff of the school system was only "uncovered rooms" at Granite high school.

No general in the war on ignorance will even consider a wiser use of his men and material. At all other generals who want more money to equip their troops.

Weak-willed taxpayers who suggest a 12-month use of building materials for three weeks ago as "non-professionals" who don't know their ABC's of education.

Similar suggestions about splitting sessions that would make double use of existing classrooms and give more of this "professional staff" something to do besides fill out survey forms get the "professional" horse laugh.

Billions of dollars investment would last 180 days out of a year just six hours per day makes so little sense to even a "professional educator" ought to be able to understand it.

Madison Trucking Firm Sues Bank For $25,373

The Illinois Pacific Coast Transportation Co. of Madison filed suit for $25,373, plus interest and costs, against the First National Bank in Madison last week in Madison county circuit court.

The complaint alleges that the bank cashed a series of checks written by the Madison Trucking Company to certain payees, but others than the payees received the money without genuine or proper endorsements.

The amounts were charged against the firm's balances, it is alleged. The complaint charges that the firm's checks dated from 1962 to 1964.

Financial transactions by the firm were the subject of a court investigation more than a year ago. An individual was indicted but never tried because he was in federal custody on another charge.

Don't Get Yourself in a Pickle

(Manhattan East, New York publication)
As various political campaigns are quickening, we the poor audience get various and cumulative statistics pressed upon us—designed, of course, to remind us how grateful we should be for the superior wisdom of the politicians citing them.

Mostly, they sound like the following arguments (with a tip of the old hat to Mr. Anonymous): 99.9% of all people who die from cancer have eaten pickles.

96.9% of all Communists sympathizers have eaten pickles.

97.9% of the people involved in air and auto accidents ate pickles within 14 days preceding the accident.

93.1% of juvenile delinquents come from homes where pickles are a 100% mortality.

All people born in 1839 who later died on pickles, there has been a 100% mortality.

All pickle eaters born between 1849 and 1859 have wrinkled skin, have lost most of their teeth, have brittle bones and failing eyesight.

If this puts you in a pickle, remember the moral: Some figures just don't add up.

Graduate Testing Dates Compiled by SIU-SW

The Counseling and Testing Center at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern (C a m p u s) has compiled a summary of dates and fees of graduate and professional testing programs, and copies are available upon request.

For example, the Law School Admission Test, required of candidates for admission to most American law schools, will be given at more than 200 centers throughout the nation on Nov. 12, 1966, and Feb. 11, April 8 and Aug. 5 in 1967. Since many law schools select their freshmen classes in the spring preceding entrance, candidates for admission to next year's classes are advised to take either the November or the February test.

Registration forms for this exam may be obtained at the SIU-SW Campus Counseling and Testing Center, as well as registration forms and information regarding other tests.

County Board to Review Audit, Tax Vote

The annual Madison county outside audit report issued by the firm of R. C. Scheffel & Co., certified public accountants of Alton, is to be reviewed at the meeting of the county board of supervisors at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday.

The audit report was critical of administrative procedures by various county offices, and questions will be answered by a representative of the firm.

Also to be reviewed is board action authorizing a referendum for a 1% tax rate for county mental health clinics at the Nov. 8 general election.

The tax could provide up to $846,000 in annual revenue for the clinics, but when the referendum resolution was passed at the August meeting, many members were of the opinion that only $846,000 would be involved.

The agenda also includes: Authorization to increase salaries in the probation and court services department.

Permission to advertise for coal bids and to award a contract.

Awarding of contracts to publish county school directories and purchase office furniture for the building official's department.

MORE ABOUT

Population

Arranged for a special referendum during the Nov. 8 election on a proposal to establish a county detention home. The proposal provides for a 1,000 cells per $100 valuation tax rate.
Vander quoted figures illustrating that the administrative office building adequate to handle county needs in 1985 would have 70,000 square feet of floor space.
The present county building, housing both administrative offices and court facilities, has 70,300 square feet. Vander said the new jail should have 17,000 square feet of floor space and the detention home a minimum of 15,000 square feet.
Mikensell and Vander told the committee that some departments of the county government already are drastically understaffed. Among these, they said, are the sheriff's office, the probation office and the maps and platting department.

Sheriff's Office Understaffed
The sheriff's office now has 59 employees, 10 of them listed as deputies. As an investment, the SWIMAP project shows a projected need of 140 employees in the sheriff's office by 1972, with 68 serving as deputies and four investigators.
By 1985, the planners said, the sheriff's office should have 248 employees, 128 of which should be deputies and five investigators. Projected figures for the probation department, which now has 22 employees, will increase to 22 by 1975 and to 27 in 1985, while in the maps and platting department the number of employees should increase to eight by 1975 and to 12 by 1985.
Mikensell and Vander explained that there are many obstacles to the appointment of a building commission which would have authority to issue bonds without referendum and perform other services in which the county board is limited.
As an example, Mikensell said the commission could lease a parking lot and charge a fee while the county would be unable to collect a parking fee.
The planning representatives said cost estimates for the program are being computed and recommendations will be in printed form and ready to distribute to county board members probably in the October meeting.

U.S. Funds May Be Available For Eagle Park Center

Federal financial assistance, amounting up to two-thirds of the total cost, may be available to construct and furnish a neighborhood social-educational service center for Eagle Park Acres, officials of the Housing and Urban Development Agency informed Cleveland L. Johnson, who met with agency officials Friday at Chicago.
Johnson, who serves as president of the Eagle Park Improvement Association, said today that HUD officials are to meet Wednesday with Illinois Economic Opportunity regional officials in Carbondale to discuss the proposed construction and financing of a neighborhood facility.
HUD officials told Johnson funds could not be obtained by Eagle Park to beauty and equip the new park and recreation site recently donated. Such federal funds are limited to improve facilities of land purchased by a community or agency and not available for improvement of donated land.
A study of sewer needs in Eagle Park is to be considered by HUD representatives, Johnson said. Funds might be obtained in order to install a trunk sewer line through the area, with the cost of the feeder lines to be financed through other means. Further study will continue, Johnson said.

Mandamus Suit to Decide Status of Tax Rate Vote

Circuit court proceedings will be filed soon to legally establish results of a special referendum held Aug. 30 on proposals to increase three tax rates for the city of Venice, according to Mayor John E. Lee.

Mayor Lee said the action will consist of a mandamus petition asking the court to direct the Madison county clerk's office to extend the 1966 tax levy for the city of Venice on the basis of increased rates for the general corporate fund and the police and street funds.

As a basis for the court test, the Venice city council, in 1964 meeting last week, approved a resolution declaring that all three tax rate proposals were approved in the referendum balloting.

Official tallies of the balloting showed slim majorities on all three proposed rate increases, was completed by the council during its meeting. Completion of the canvass was delayed in an earlier meeting of the council when it was found that election judges of Ward Two had failed to certify their tallies of the ballots. The official certifications were obtained by City Clerk William "Mike" Ebersold to permit completion of the canvass last week.

Question Voting Results

The results showed an overall vote for each proposition approved the increases. Question on the status of the vote arises, because of 290 spoiled ballots and the need of legal interpretation as to whether the spoiled ballots should be counted as "votes cast" or whether they should be discounted in making the tally.

Since the law provides that the propositions must carry by a majority of votes cast, results could be reversed by a decision that the spoiled ballots be counted as votes cast.

Official tallies showed that proposition No. One, providing for a rate increase for the police department, carried by a vote of 413 to 351 in all four wards; proposition No. Two, providing a rate increase for the general fund, carried by only 394 to 383; and that proposition No. Three, providing a rate increase for the street department, carried 407 to 347.

Results of Canvass

Results in Ward One showed that proposition No. One was approved 145 to 89 with 37 spoiled ballots; proposition No. Two carried 143 to 121 with 37 spoiled ballots; proposition No. Three carried 144 to 88 with 39 spoiled ballots.

Ward Two: proposition No. One rejected 143 to 138 with 18 spoiled ballots; proposition No. Two rejected 146 to 123 with 20 spoiled ballots; proposition No. Three rejected 142 to 133 with 24 spoiled ballots.

Ward Three: proposition No. One carried 80 to 44 with 12 spoiled ballots; proposition No. Two rejected 47 to 45 with 14 spoiled ballots; proposition No. Three carried 82 to 62 with 25 spoiled ballots.
